The scene is set in a well-lit, contemporary space with large windows and a polished floor. The stone wall is made of large, rectangular blocks in shades of brown and tan. The wooden table and benches are made of dark wood. A stainless steel grill is positioned on the left. A birch tree trunk is on the right. The floor is dark and polished, with some autumn leaves scattered on it. The lighting is warm and ambient, with three pendant lights hanging over the table.
